STATEMENT

Some time ago I was informed by a senior human rights attorney, Richard Spoor, that in his view former South African attorneys, Ronald Bobroff and Darren Bobroff, had been unfairly dealt with by the media, other persons and institutions.

I have examined the attached document, which contains details of serious accusations against the Bobroffs.

I have also examined the statements denying the truth of the accusations and the evidence provided by the links to the statements.

In my considered view, with 57 years of experience of litigation involving primarily deciding between truth and untruth, the accusations are false beyond question.

Clearly, publishing them has constituted a most serious injustice against the Bobroffs which has undoubtedly caused them and their families incalculable harm.

I have acted throughout pro bono in this matter, and am concerned here only with the cause of justice, to which I have dedicated much of my life.
